

CONCRETE STEEL & PAINT

A film about crime, restoration and healing.

Men in prison join with victims of crime to create a mural about healing. Their struggle to find creative common ground raises challenging questions about punishment, justice and reconciliation in America.

“...a great discussion tool for college classes and community groups interested in justice, community-building, conflict resolution and socially-engaged art.”

Howard Zehr, Professor of Restorative Justice, Eastern Mennonite University

“...a story of transformation, as offenders and victims resolve heart-felt differences and create something beautiful....”

Phil Harris, Assoc. Professor of Criminal Justice, Temple University

“...highly honest in its depiction of dialogue at its most difficult.”
