Graduate Education

Learn practical skills and concepts you can employ immediately.

Restorative practices improve your personal and professional performance—whether in education, criminal justice, social services, counseling, the pastoral field, business, volunteer work or in your own family life.

Convenient Classes for Working Professionals

• Hybrid courses combine in-person events around the world with online coursework.
• Online courses available throughout the year.
• Independent study allows you to customize your education.

Take a Single Course or Earn a Degree or Certificate

• Choose from a wide range of online and hybrid courses.
• Graduate Certificate in Restorative Practices (4 courses)
• Master of Science in Restorative Practices (10 courses)

Easy to Get Started

• Try it out by taking courses without applying for admission.
• Generous scholarships
• Low-interest loans — For students in the U.S., IIRP loans are available at an interest rate lower than federal loans.

World Leader in Restorative Practices

• Professional development delivered to tens of thousands of professionals from more than 55 countries
• 16 World Conferences convened in 6 countries since 1998
• Accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education
• The IIRP grew out of the Community Service Foundation and Buxmont Academy, which have provided more than 10,000 troubled youth with education, counseling and residential services since 1977.

IIRP STUDENTS

“If you think you won’t like or learn from an online course, try taking one at the IIRP Graduate School!”
— Karena Malko, Counselor, Jersey City, NJ

“The IIRP has strengthened both my skill set and my resolve. The staff is phenomenal, and the diversity of experience of the other students has been eye-opening and inspiring.”
— Sharon Mast, Business Owner, Reading, PA

“I’d never heard of restorative practices. I was sent by my school principal to explore what it was for the school. I’ve been coming ever since because I found something for myself that I feel is making me a better person and is also giving me a new lease on doing my craft, which is being a classroom teacher.”
— David Knightly, Teacher, Oxford, ME

Take up to 4 courses before deciding to apply.

Visit us at iirp.edu

Questions? Contact the Registrar at (610) 807-9221 or email registrar@iirp.edu.
Graduate Programs

Master of Science in Restorative Practices
10 courses/30 credits

4 required courses:
- RP 500 Basic Restorative Practices
- RP 525 Restorative Practices in Action
- RP 610 Evaluation of Research
- RP 699 Final Professional Learning Group

Plus 6 electives

Graduate Certificate in Restorative Practices
4 courses/12 credits

2 required courses:
- RP 500 Basic Restorative Practices
- RP 525 Restorative Practices in Action

Plus 2 electives

---

Graduate Course Electives

- RP 506 Restorative Practices: The Promise and the Challenge
- RP 515 Restorative Leadership Development: Authority with Grace
- RP 532 Aggression Replacement Training®: Behavioral Interventions that Work
- RP 535 Restorative Responses to Grief, Trauma and Adversity
- RP 541 IIRP World Conference
- RP 542 IIRP Turning the Tide Symposium
- RP 610 Evaluation of Research
- RP 622 Restorative Justice in Communities
- RP 623 Restorative Justice: Global Perspectives
- RP 625 Restorative Practices in Life Space Crisis Intervention
- RP 635 Narrative Processes for Empowering Youth
- RP 652 Social and Emotional Learning in the Restorative Classroom
- RP 662 A Restorative Approach to Educating the High-Risk and High-Need Student
- RP 694 Directed/Independent Study
- RP 695 Action Research Project in Restorative Practices
- RP 696 Action Research Project in Restorative Practices II

---

Visit us at iirp.edu Questions? Contact the Registrar at (610) 807-9221 or email registrar@iirp.edu