

IIRP expands with new site in Lansdale

Building on its success at its main campus in Bethlehem, Pa., the International Institute for Restorative Practices (IIRP) will now offer additional graduate classes in Lansdale, Pa.

The IIRP offers master's degree and non-degree certificate programs and introductory courses for educators and youth-serving professionals in restorative practices (RP). In addition, the IIRP is introducing a one-year fast-track master's degree beginning in July.

RP builds cooperation, fosters strong relationships and creates a climate that engages young people to learn and grow.

Graduate students can attend classes at the IIRP's main campus in Bethlehem, or in Lansdale.

Summer classes are offered during the week and on weekends and begin at progressive intervals throughout the term. For more information or to register, visit www.iirp.org/pi or call 610-807-9221.