

Ending Violence Through Restorative Justice

Learning about Bias Violence, the School to Prison Pipeline, and how Restorative Justice Practices Can Heal Our Schools & Communities

Join the Campaign for Nonviolent Schools on MLK Day for an expert panel of youth and adults and workshops that will give you concrete skills & steps you can take to reduce violence. Workshops will include:

Implementing Restorative Practices, Interrupting Bias Violence, Creating Nonviolent Schools, and Ending the School to Prison Pipeline .

MLK Day, Monday, January 16th
1pm -4pm

Arch St. Methodist Church
55 N. Broad St, Philadelphia

Pre-register for the event at:

www.endingviolence.eventbrite.com

The Campaign for Nonviolent Schools is a citywide, youth-led campaign that consists of Asian Americans United, Asian Student Association of Philadelphia, ASPIRA, BPSOS, Citywide Student Government, Philadelphia Freedom Schools, the Philadelphia Student Union, Philadelphia Youth Commission, University Community Collaborative of Philadelphia, the Youth Art and Self-Empowerment Project, and Youth United for Change.